

HONK!

A Musical Comedy and Celebration of Difference

Benjamin Franklin High School's fall musical production of Honk! is hatching on Friday, November 11, 2011. This Broadway hit is the exciting retelling of the ugly duckling tale with family humor and a charming cast you won't want to miss. Students will be inspired by Ben Franklin's talented singers, dancers, actors and live orchestra while hearing a message of tolerance and acceptance. This is the largest school wide collaboration in Franklin's history with over 100 students participating and will be an egg-cellent evening for the entire family!

Honk! opens on Friday, November 11 at 10 a.m. to a SOLD OUT matinee audience of New Orleans area schools. Performances open to the general public are Friday, November 11 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, November 12 at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. in the BFHS auditorium. The shows may sell out and reservations are available by contacting Rachel Becker at (504) 359-7904 or Rachel_Becker@benfranklinhighschool.org.

The vision of Honk! is to reach out to the community with a message of celebrating our differences and embracing our uniqueness, not only as individuals, but as a city apart from all others. Please join us for a quacking good time!

Performances will be held at Ben Franklin High School 2001 Leon C. Simon Dr., New Orleans, LA 70122. This production is sponsored by New Orleans Theatre Association.
